Find 19 week's worth of lessons for children and youth with games, snacks, handouts, activities, Hebrew lesson, Bible discussion and more. Use this material for a family, home group, kid's class or just one child. Get a copy of this book for only $1 a week or visit our website to download the website for free - www.emetministries.com. The Torah is clear that teaching children is everyone's responsibility. The Greatest Commandment, found in Deuteronomy 6 was given to all of Israel. This passage says that "you shall teach this diligently to your children." It does take a village to raise a child. We each have our part and we each have a part in sharing YHWH with those younger. The lessons in this book will help make your part of sharing the faith a little easier for groups of any size at any time. These lessons are "kid tested" and "Torah approved." As the restoration of the Kingdom of Israel is taking place throughout the world, we are quickly recognizing our likeness to the first generation of Hebrews that were in the Exodus from Egypt. The Torah is often foreign and the commandments are sometimes difficult to grasp. We struggle with the Hebrew language and we find it much easier to resort back to our old way of life and old time religion. But, as we are fierce in our fight to walk in the original faith we also must realize that we are battling for our children's faith and their future. There is rising a generation that will easily accept their identity as Ephraim and use the true Hebrew name of Y'shua without blinking. These future leaders of Israel will not struggle with the laws of clean and unclean for they will know the difference from their youth. How blessed we are to raise them up in the way that they should go that when they are older they will not depart from YHWH. We may find the Torah to be a strange thing, but our children and grandchildren will inherit the Torah's rich meanings and powerful traditions. We may struggle on the journey but our children will inherit the Promised Land. This is why we must pass along our faith. This is why we should teach the Torah diligently to our children. This book includes 19 lessons for you to use to teach the basics of the Messianic Nazerene faith to children. You can use this for just your family, one child or a whole classroom. With this book, you don't have to be a Hebrew scholar or a certified teacher to share the faith of YHWH. Simply follow the lesson plan provided for over an hour's worth of classroom learning. These classes were developed to make learning fun through incorporating a theme of making "Shabbat School Cool" but you can use these studies at anytime. Each lesson has a specific theme and corresponding snack, object lesson, activities, handouts, games, and Scripture discussion. Plus during the lesson, the student will also be introduced to the Hebrew alphabet / aleph-bet and a few Hebrew words. This material was developed for children ages 8-12 but it can easily be adapted for younger kids and older youth. How? Each lesson includes several activities to choose from depending on the age of your class and the time you have. Younger children will need to be read to and will enjoy the coloring or crafts while youth can spend more time with the Bible discussion and activities. There are several handouts, coloring pages, and puzzles included that can be easily printed from this book and given to the students to help reinforce the lesson as well. You can make a difference in the restoration of the Kingdom to Israel as you help equip the future generation with the basics of the most holy faith. By using "Shabbat School Is Cool" you can fulfill the Greatest Commandment of loving your neighbor as yourself through teaching the Torah "diligently to your children."
