Adjusting Destiny Dr. Alexander Bertson

Dr. Christian Saroya and Ms. Destiny Brisco, take a physical, spiritual, and intellectual journey in search of personal and political significance amid changes from the turbulent late 1960's to the current national political climate. Christian, an ex-hippie college professor, and Destiny, a top international supermodel, are engaging, if unlikely partners. When Destiny's recurring nightmares of a 60's college riot send her back to her alma mater, she runs into Christian. Christian intends to investigate what happened to the classmates of their shared past, so the two team up to find them. They are especially interested in finding the iconic and messianic "Kid X," a charismatic, pacifistic campus leader who once seemed to have all the answers. But the ever-jealous Christian can only remember the explosive love-triangle that once existed. As Christian and Destiny embark on a romantic journey, Christian attempts to reconcile his jealous and possessive machismo with his ideas about the rights of women. It would be all fun, games, and sex, but when Christian and Destiny's investigation into the political past raises the eyebrows of a colleague and CIA informant, they become targets of clandestine surveillance and unwittingly entangled in a violent plot of modern radicals. This fast paced, action-packed novel concludes with a powerful, if harrowing message about the inevitability of change.
